For Equal Opportunities and Welfare Officer

I'm a first-year Maths student, and I would love to be your equal ops & Welfare Officer. I know that a Maths degree can be very stressful and overwhelming, That's why I want to be a friendly face you can turn to whenever you need support even if it's just a chat.

Why Me?

1. I am a great listener and am non-judgemental.
2. I have previous volunteering experience in teaching blind children and at a hospital. The experience gave me a wider perspective on life and the importance of your health and wellbeing.
3. I am highly efficient and reliable and will plan events in advance and get things done ASAP.

I will

1. Post resources and advice about mental health wellbeing on Instagram and be a safe space so you can talk to me about absolutely anything.
2. Assist the VP to ensure the mentorship scheme is effective and encourage active communication between mentors and mentees.
3. Continue the success of Ada Lovelace day and provide loads of snacks!
4. Aim to schedule Coffee and Cake so it doesn't clash with lectures so everyone can come and enjoy FREE FOOD
5. Send out weekly google forms so you can request your favourite snacks!
6. Introduce fun activities to de-stress such as arts and crafts, nature walks and inviting Rolf the campus cat to visit.
